

Société par moments marquée de volupté
Justice rendue parfois au gré de ces messieurs,
Espoir exalté tout au bout de la jetée
Ce monde affreux est-il réellement sérieux ?

The world we live in may be delightful
But where is justice when enforced by the powerful ?
From elated hopes at times better days can come forth
But is this dreadful world really worth fighting for ?

Have you heard of poetic justice before ?
Justice that comes from sharing one's own humanity ?
Keeping silent for the sake of truth,
Speaking out secrets at times to keep alive ?

Language was given to man to say how much it matters
How much the law has to protect and foster our living together
Encouraging creative freedom
Taking us ever ahead of what dwindles and restricts.

Inquiétude qui sans cesse tient l'homme en éveil :
Desserrer l'étau du mal,
Qui saura dire la frontière entre le juste et l'injuste ?
À l'aube, entre le jour et la nuit ?
